Teaser	As a skilled worker with vocational training, you can obtain a residence permit to pursue qualified employment if you meet certain requirements for this.
Volltext	You can obtain a residence permit for skilled workers with vocational training if you have completed qualified vocational training in Germany. Qualified vocational training exists if you have completed vocational training in a state-recognized or comparably regulated training occupation. The duration of the training must have been at least two years. If you have completed your vocational training abroad, the equivalence of your qualification with the German, qualified vocational training must be determined by the responsible recognition body (e.g. the Chamber of Industry or Commerce). Before the residence permit is issued, the Federal Employment Agency must give its approval. Federal Employment Agency checks whether the working conditions correspond to those of comparable German employees, whether you are engaged in an occupation for which your qualification qualifies you and whether a domestic employment relationship exists.

If the residence permit is issued, it is limited in time. The validity depends on your employment contract or the period of validity of the approval of the Federal Employment Agency. In the case of unlimited employment contracts, the residence permit for skilled workers is issued for a period of four years.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- - Valid passport or passport replacement - Current biometric photo - Original of your employment contract or a binding job offer (please use the nationwide standardized form Declaration of Employment Relationship) - Original of the certificate of successfully completed professional training - If available, notification of the determination of the equivalence of the foreign professional qualification with a domestic qualified professional training. - For regulated professions: Your professional license - If required: license to practice your profession - Proof of health insurance - Current certificate of residence - Rental agreement Also, if you have recently entered the country: - Visa, if this was required for the entry as well as in case of previous residence: - Current residence title or other certificate of right of residence (e.g. residence permit, toleration).

Voraussetzungen

- You have a recognized and valid passport or passport replacement and - if required for entry - an appropriate visa. - There is no interest in deportation against you. - Your stay does not endanger or impair the interests of the Federal Republic of Germany. - You possess: - a domestic qualified professional training or - an equivalent foreign professional qualification. - You possess a qualification that enables you to perform the qualified employment. This means that, in principle, you can also pursue employment in a related occupation if there is a connection between the training you have received and the intended occupation (e.g. a baker can also work as a confectioner). - You have a job or a job offer If you have reached the age of 45, you must provide proof of an employment contract or a binding job offer with a certain minimum salary. The minimum salary must reach 55 percent of the annual contribution assessment ceiling in the general pension insurance. This results in a minimum salary for 2022 of 46,530 euros per year. Even if this minimum salary is not reached, a residence permit may be issued upon presentation of proof of adequate pension provision or in special cases (e.g. if there is a public interest in the employment). The amount of the minimum salary is announced for each year by the Federal Ministry of the Interior and Home Affairs by December 31 of the previous year. - The Federal Employment Agency has consented to the employment (consent is usually obtained from the Foreigners' Registration Office). For approval, among other things, your working conditions (especially salary) must be comparable to those of a German employee in the same position. - If required, you must have a professional practice permit. - You can secure your livelihood and health insurance coverage from your income without claiming public benefits.

Kosten

Gebühr: 100€
Under certain conditions, a fee reduction or fee exemption may be considered
