teacher in addition to the equivalence of the professional qualification. Most of the time, you will have to prove these prerequisites when you are hired into the teaching profession. This is a different procedure.

For this, the equivalence of your degree with a Thuringian teaching qualification must be established.

In Thuringia, teacher training is school type-related and includes

- a first phase of university studies leading to the First State Examination for a teaching profession or a university degree recognized as equivalent, and
- the second phase is practical pedagogical training in the preparatory service leading to the Second State Examination for a teaching post.

With the completion of the Second State Examination, one acquires the professional qualification for the respective teaching profession and can be employed as a teacher in the state school service.

Teacher training in Thuringia is as follows

- for the teaching profession at elementary schools in three subjects, including the compulsory subjects German (as a mother tongue), mathematics and a third elementary school subject;
- for the teaching profession at regular schools in two subjects;
- for the teaching profession at grammar schools in two subjects or in one of the double subjects art education or music;
- for the teaching profession at vocational schools in one vocational subject and a second subject;
- for the teaching profession for special education in two special education subjects and in two general education subjects. One of the general education subjects must be German (as mother tongue) or mathematics.

Modul

Sachverhalt

If your professional qualification as a teacher acquired abroad only relates to individual training subjects provided in Thuringia, there is also the possibility of partial recognition.

In individual cases, it is also possible to be employed as a teacher at independent schools or state schools within the framework of temporary contracts (e.g. substitute teacher) without recognition of your teaching qualification. In these cases, you should apply directly to the school where you would like to work or to the relevant state education authority.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

You will need the following documents:

- the fully completed and signed application form
- Proof of identity / proof of place of residence and citizenship (e.g. ID, passport, registration confirmation, birth certificate)
- Certificate of change of name (if applicable)
- Diploma or proof of education showing qualification for the teaching profession obtained abroad, including
 - the certificate of the academic degree
 - the certificate annexes to the subjects / modules of study
 - the proof of the duration of education
 - examination and study regulations and overviews of examination and study achievements

If several training courses relevant to the professional qualification as a teacher have been completed, the training certificates for all degrees must be submitted.

- Proof of relevant professional experience as a teacher (certificates on the duration and type of professional activity as a teacher carried out to date, with details of the school/subjects taught and the grades/age groups of the pupils)
- if applicable, other certificates of qualification relevant to the profession of teacher
- certificate of authorization to practice as a teacher in the country of training (indicating which subjects may be taught in which grades/age levels in the country of training)

- if applicable, a certificate issued by another state of the Federal Republic of Germany

- documents showing that you intend to work as a teacher in Thuringia, e.g. proof of application for an entry visa, proof of contact with school authorities or schools (these documents are not required for applicants residing in a member state of the European Union, another state party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area or Switzerland, or for nationals of these states).

- All documents must be submitted in the original or as a certified copy and, as a rule, in German. If the documents are written in another language, you will also need a translation by a publicly appointed translator. You can find these at the Federal Association of Interpreters and Translators - Thuringia.

consult with you if documents are missing or if clarification is needed.

- You will receive a notice of recognition stating the result of the application process.
- In case of complete equivalence, the procedure is finished. If significant differences to the Thuringian reference training have been identified, the compensatory measures (adaptation course or aptitude test) are listed and it is explained how you must proceed. If no recognition is possible, you can also find this out from the notice.
- There are various compensatory measures:
 - Adaptation course: you work as a teacher and may be doing additional training. This means that you take part in courses at a university, for example.
 - Aptitude test: You do teaching rehearsals and oral exams. A lesson rehearsal means: you conduct lessons with students. Examiners observe and assess your teaching. The responsible office will inform you about necessary teaching rehearsals and examinations.
- You can usually choose between an adaptation course or an aptitude test. Sometimes
 - the competent office decides which compensatory measure you should take and informs you about it.
 - If you successfully complete the compensatory measure, you will receive recognition.
 - In order to work as a teacher, it is still necessary to establish the German language skills required to practice as a teacher. At present, this requires proof of German language skills at level C1. Information can be found below.
