Teaser	As a private person, you would like to handle explosive substances such as black powder, nitrocellulose powder or fireworks? Then you must comply with the Explosives Act and need an official permit from the competent authority.
Volltext	Anyone wishing to handle explosive substances for non-commercial, i.e. private, purposes requires a permit in accordance with the Explosives Act. This also applies if you wish to purchase or transport explosive substances for non-commercial purposes. Activities in connection with explosive substances have a great potential for danger. The aim of the Explosives Act is to protect people and property from these dangers. For this reason, the permit can be restricted in terms of content and space, as well as being subject to conditions, insofar as this is necessary to prevent hazards, disadvantages or nuisances for third parties. In order to prevent accidents and misuse, explosives legislation places high demands on the suitability, reliability and expertise of persons who wish to handle explosive substances. If you as a private person, want to handle the following explosive substances, <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Black powder for muzzle loading, • firecracker powder for firecracker shooting, • nitrocellulose powder for reloading cartridge cases, • rocket motors in model rocketry of category P2 and

Sachverhalt

- Fireworks of the category F3 and F4,
- fireworks according to § 20 paragraph 4 of the First Ordinance to the Explosives Act of category F2

then you need a permit according to § 27 SprengG (colloquially also called Pulverschein, Böllerschein or Feuerwerkerschein)!

The official permit ensures that only those persons have access to explosive substances who meet the requirements for safe handling.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Completed application form for the issuance of a permit according to § 27 Explosives Act
 - Valid identity card or passport
 - Proof of specialist knowledge: Proof of successful completion of specialist knowledge course for the planned activity (not required for fireworks of category F3)
 - Proof of the reason for handling explosive substances, such as membership in a shooting club, hunting license (not applicable for permission to handle pyrotechnic objects)
 - Proof of liability insurance when handling fireworks of category F3 and F4
 - Description of the intended storage (for example technical documentation, photographic evidence)
 - If applicable, firearms license, hunting license, permits already issued
 - Certificate of harmlessness
 - for the technical qualification "reloading": copy of the weapon possession card (WBK)

For the verification of the reliability of persons from abroad:

- You will need a certificate in a certified translation from the competent judicial or administrative authority in your home country or country of origin concerning certain facts that are relevant to the assessment of your reliability (for example, criminal record extract).

Sachverhalt

Voraussetzungen

To obtain a permit to handle explosive substances, you must meet the following requirements:

- You must be 21 years of age or older to handle black powder, nitrocellulose powder and other propellant powder. Exceptions are possible in individual cases for sport shooters.
- You must be 21 years of age or older to handle category F4 fireworks and category P2 pyrotechnic items (for example, rocket motors).
- You must be 18 years of age or older to handle category F2 or F3 fireworks.
- They must have specialist knowledge. The expert knowledge is proven by a certificate, which certifies the successful participation in a state or state-approved training course (not applicable for pyrotechnics category F3).
- You must be reliable. The required reliability is normally given if you have so far behaved in a law-abiding manner and have no criminal record.
- You must be personally suitable. You are personally suitable if you have no limitations, for example, in mental or physical health or due to drug or alcohol addiction.

You must be able to prove important reasons for contact. The proof is specific to the target group; hunters, for example, must submit their hunting license for this purpose, and sports and firearms shooters must submit a certificate of membership and participation in shooting and traditional shooting associations. (Not required if you have a permit to handle fireworks or other pyrotechnic objects such as rocket motors).

You must have suitable rooms for storage.

Kosten

The issuance of a permit is subject to a fee. The fees are determined in accordance with the applicable schedule of fees or costs.
