Hinweise

In most cases, foreign nationals living in a family relationship with Germans receive a settlement permit after three years.

Young foreign nationals who:

- grew up in Germany or
- have entered the country as part of child reunification,

can also obtain a settlement permit under simplified conditions.

The reunification of family members of nationals of EU/EEA states is governed by the Freedom of Movement Act/EU. This means:

- Family members of nationals of EU/EEA countries who themselves belong to an EU or EEA state can freely enter and work.
- Family members of nationals of EU/EEA states who do not themselves belong to an EU or EEA state also have a right of entry and residence.

Since 1 September 2011, you will receive the residence permit in the form of a credit card with additional electronic functions. Further information can be found under Electronic Residence Title (eAT).

Rechtsbehelf

Kurztext

Ansprechpunkt

Before entering Germany, you must apply for a national visa in your home country.

After entering the country, you must apply for the residence permit in writing at the Foreigners' Registration Office before your visa expires.

Depending on the place of residence, the Foreigners' Registration Office is the city administration or the district administration.
