| Frist                        | As a rule, at the earliest after the first periodic inspection. If there is sufficient knowledge about the operational influences on the service life, the extension of the inspection period can also be approved before the first periodic inspection. However, no later than 8 weeks before the expiry of the statutory review period.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
