application for admission constitutes an exceptional hardship within the meaning of Section 5 (1) of the state ordinance on admission to the legal preparatory service

- If applicable, proof of early completion of the compulsory state examination (Section 5 d (5) DRiG; so-called "free shot")
- a declaration that a certificate of good conduct for submission to an authority (document type 0) has been requested from the competent registration authority for submission to the President of the Higher Regional Court.

* Note on official certification in Rhineland-Palatinate: The following are authorized to officially certify copies, duplicates and negatives as well as signatures and hand signs (according to § 1 of the state law on certification authority of 21.07.1978 in the currently valid version): the local mayors and local heads, the local authority administrations and municipal administrations of municipalities not belonging to an association, the municipal administrations of independent and large towns belonging to a district, the district administrations, the structural and approval directorates, the supervisory and service directorates, the directors and presidents of the courts, the public prosecutors' offices and general public prosecutors' offices, the prisons, the supreme state authorities, the statutory health insurance funds not dependent on the state, the other authorities within the scope of their material competence.

Voraussetzungen

Anyone who has passed the so-called first examination after studying law at a university is admitted to the legal training service upon application. The first examination consists of a university specialization examination and a compulsory state examination. If the number of applicants exceeds the number of available training places or the available budget is insufficient, admission is granted in accordance with the "State Ordinance on Admission to the Legal Preparatory Service".

Kosten

There are no fees.
