question. This residence permit can be extended if, due to special circumstances of the individual case, leaving the federal territory would mean exceptional hardship for you.

The general requirements for the granting of a residence permit must also be met (in particular securing your livelihood, clarified identity, no interest in deportation).

The residence permit does not entitle you to pursue gainful employment. It can be granted on application by the immigration authority.

A residence requirement may be imposed on you.

You are entitled to social benefits (basic income support for jobseekers under Social Security Code II or basic income support in old age or in the event of reduced earning capacity under Social Security Code XII) and child benefit.

Family reunification is excluded.

You are not entitled to participate in an integration course. You can only be admitted to a course if there are places available.
