Sachverhalt

Registration Office usually involves the Federal Employment Agency, which will check the working conditions. After holding the residence permit for two years and if you have been employed during this time in a job that corresponds to your professional qualifications, access to the labor market is no longer subject to any restrictions.

If your residence permit is extended, it will be limited in time again. As a rule, the residence permit cannot be extended if this was already ruled out when the residence permit was issued or last extended.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

In principle, the extension of your residence permit requires the submission of the same documents as for the initial issue:

- Recognized and valid identity document (e.g. passport or passport substitute)
- Current biometric photo in passport format (45 x 35 mm)
- Proof of completed training (e.g. university degree, certificates of completed vocational training)
- For foreign university degrees: Notification of recognition or comparability of the university degree, if available Certificate evaluation from the Central Office for Foreign Education (ZAB), if available
- Employment contract or the "Declaration of employment" form completed and signed by the employer (see Forms).
- Proof of previous employment (e.g. references, employment contracts), if available
- Proof of German language skills
- Proof of means of subsistence (e.g. equity capital, blocked account, declaration of commitment)
- Proof of health insurance cover
- Current registration certificate

In individual cases, the Immigration Office may require less or further proof.

Voraussetzungen

In principle, you must meet the same requirements for the extension of the residence permit as for the initial issue of the residence permit, i.e:

Modul

Sachverhalt

- You have a recognized and valid identity document (for example, passport or passport substitute).
- You have in the federal territory completed qualified vocational training in a state-recognized or comparable regulated training occupation or a university degree or with a recognized university degree or a foreign university degree comparable to a German university degree, have worked continuously for at least two years in an occupation that was appropriate to their degree or have been in qualified employment for at least three years without interruption and have not been dependent on public funds within the last year (with the exception of benefits to cover the necessary costs of accommodation and heating).
- You have sufficient German language skills at least at level B1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
- You can present a concrete job offer or a contract (the form "Declaration of employment" serves as proof of the concrete job offer).
- You have sufficient living space for yourself and your family.
- The Federal Employment Agency has approved your employment.
- You can cover your living expenses and health insurance from your own resources without claiming public benefits.
- There are no grounds for deportation against you.

Your stay does not jeopardize or impair the interests of the Federal Republic of Germany

Kosten

The following fees apply:

- 96.00 for a further stay of up to three months
