Sachverhalt

In order to apply for a determination of equivalence, you must identify a German training qualification or further training qualification. This is the so-called reference profession. It must match your foreign professional qualification. Therefore, you should seek advice before applying.

When determining equivalence, the competent authority compares your degree with a specific German degree. Important criteria in the comparison are the content and duration of the training.

You will receive a notification of the result of the procedure. The decision mentions existing and possibly still missing professional qualifications. The decision allows employers to better assess your professional qualifications. For skilled workers from third countries, a recognition procedure is usually a prerequisite for the issuance of a visa. Third countries are all countries outside the European Union (EU), the European Economic Area (EEA) and Switzerland.

You can also apply for a determination of equivalence from abroad.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

The competent authority will tell you which documents you need to submit. Important documents are generally:

- Proof of identity (ID card or passport)
- Marriage certificate (if your name has changed due to marriage)
- Curriculum vitae
- Proof of your professional qualification (e.g. certificates, professional certificate)
- Proof of training
- Proof of your relevant work experience
- Proof of further relevant knowledge for the work
- Have you ever submitted an application for a determination of equivalence? Then indicate to which office you submitted the application.
- Perhaps: You don't live or work in the EU, the EEA or Switzerland yet? Then you have to prove that you want to work in the profession in Germany. Proof includes, for example, applications for a job, invitations to job interviews or a location note from the Central Service Centre for Professional Recognition (ZSBA).

The competent authority will tell you which documents you need to submit as a simple copy, as a certified copy or in the original.

If your documents are not available in German, you must submit German translations of your documents. Translations must be carried out by translators who are publicly appointed or authorised.

You may need to submit additional documents in the course of the recognition process. The competent authority will inform you.

Voraussetzungen

- You have a state-recognized professional qualification from abroad.
- Your degree must match a German training qualification or further training qualification in the field of health service professions.
- They want to work in Germany.

Kosten

The costs generally depend on the effort required for processing.

In addition, additional costs may arise (e.g. for translations or certifications). These costs vary from person to person.

Verfahrensablauf

Application

They shall submit an application for a determination of equivalence to the competent authority. Perhaps you can send the application electronically. The competent authority will inform you. You can also submit the application with the documents to the competent authority or send it by post. Do not send originals.

Examination of equivalence

The competent authority then checks: Is your professional qualification equivalent to the German professional qualification? In doing so, the competent authority compares the qualifications with the help of here or according to the Federal Expellees Act. You can decide for yourself. The competent authority will advise you on which procedure is right for you.

Skills analysis

You no longer have all the necessary documents for the application? In this case, recognition is still possible. You can prove your professional qualification with a qualification analysis, for example through a technical interview or a work sample.

Rechtsbehelf

You can take legal action against the decision of the competent authority within a certain period of time (e.g. file an objection). The decision will then be reviewed. Details can be found in the information on legal remedies at the end of your decision. You should first talk to the competent authority before taking legal action against the decision.
