Teaser	Does your child have a developmental disorder and/or an (impending) disability? Then it is advisable to clarify your child's entitlement to early intervention services in order to support them on the path to a self-determined and largely independent life at an early stage.
Volltext	In Rhineland-Palatinate, eight "social pediatric centers" with affiliated early intervention centers offer early detection and early intervention services. These are located in Bad Kreuznach, • Göllheim, • Mainz, • Landau, • Landstuhl, • Ludwigshafen, • Neuwied and • Trier.

Modul

Sachverhalt

A comprehensive range of branch offices ensures that children are cared for close to home.

The work of the early intervention centers focuses on the early detection, support and treatment of developmental disorders, impending disabilities and existing disabilities in children and young people.

Children and young people with abnormalities in all areas of development, chronic illnesses, disabilities and impending disabilities can be referred to the centers for social pediatrics and early intervention for clarification of problematic development.

Early detection and early intervention services can be provided in particular for :

- Infants and toddlers with a history of risk factors
- Children with general developmental abnormalities
- Children with movement disorders of all kinds
- Children with speech development disorders
- Children with cerebral seizures and epilepsy
- Children with congenital malformations
- Children with behavioral problems
- Schoolchildren with partial performance disorders and with additional emotional disorders children with multiple disabilities.

Early intervention for children with sensory disabilities is provided at the Neuwied State School for the Blind and Visually Impaired, the Neuwied State School for the Deaf, the Wilhelm Hubert Cüppers School in Trier and the Pfalzinstitut für Hörsprachbehinderte Frankenthal. In addition, individual local Lebenshilfen offer early home support
