Sachverhalt

management, you must be recognized by the competent authority.

Volltext

If you, as an investigation body, want to carry out analyses in accordance with the Sewage Sludge Ordinance, you must apply for notification to the competent authority in the federal state in which you have your place of business. This also applies if you maintain several dependent locations nationwide. The notification granted is valid for the whole of Germany.

If it is an investigative body from another member state of the European Union that does not have its registered office in Germany, you can apply for notification in the federal state in which you want to operate.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

The application for notification must be submitted to the competent Land authority. The application documents will be made available digitally.

For the notification of the requested areas of investigation, a competence assessment according to DIN EN ISO/IEC 17025 is required. A module-compliant accreditation from the German Accreditation Body GmbH (DAkkS) serves as proof of competence.

The following documents from DAkkS are required:

- Letter of accreditation and certificate of accreditation
- Creation of deeds
- Reports on the last review
- At the request of the authority, the deviation reports and other documents

The application for notification must be submitted in Lower Saxony to the State Agency for Water Management, Coastal Protection and Nature Conservation Directorate (NLWKN).
