Teaser	Would you like to work as a surveyor in Lower Saxony? Then you must have your foreign professional qualification recognised.
Volltext	The profession of surveyor is regulated in Germany. This means that you must prove that you have a certain qualification in order to be allowed to work in the profession. If you have a foreign professional qualification as a surveyor, you can work in this profession in the chosen federal state under certain conditions. To do this, you must submit an application with all the necessary documents to the competent state authority.

The competent state authority for mining compares your professional qualification from abroad with the professional qualification in the selected federal state and makes a determination of equivalence.

You will receive feedback after your application has been reviewed. If your professional qualification is equivalent and you meet all other requirements, you will be recognised as a surveyor. If you do not have professional qualifications for recognition, the notification will state the main differences. You can then take a compensatory action.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- in German, a tabular list of the training courses completed and the gainful employment carried out
 - Proof of identity
 - Certificates of training acquired abroad
 - Evidence of relevant professional experience and other evidence of formal qualifications required to establish the equivalence of professional qualifications
 - If applicable, a certificate of entitlement to practise in the country of training
 - in German, a statement as to whether and to which office an application has already been submitted and, if applicable, the decision
 - a medical certificate as proof of health suitability, and a certificate from a health authority on request
 - a declaration that a certificate of good conduct in accordance with § 30 of the Federal Central Register Act has been applied for at the registration authority for submission to the Land Office
