opportunities of domestic enterprises or if it involves the establishment of a production plant for technically high-quality (future-proof) and/or particularly environmentally compatible products (economic interests).

- if the employment preserves or creates jobs (labour market policy interests).

The private economic, operational interest of an employer alone is not sufficient to establish a public interest in employment.

They do not have to prove that they are qualified. Recognition of their qualification acquired abroad is also not required.

Before the residence permit is issued, the Federal Employment Agency must give its approval. This Federal Employment Agency also checks whether there is a labour market policy interest. The approval is granted for a maximum of four years.

If the residence permit is granted, it is limited in time. The validity depends on your employment contract or the period of validity of the approval of the Federal Employment Agency.

Under certain circumstances, the Aliens' Registration Office may oblige you to take part in an integration course. This will then be noted on your residence permit.

If you are an employer and would like to hire an employee from abroad due to public interests, you can apply for the accelerated skilled worker procedure at the Foreigners' Authority with the power of attorney of the foreigner, with which the entry can be facilitated and accelerated.
