Teaser	Have you acquired further training/qualification as a specialist veterinarian abroad? Then you can apply for recognition as a specialist veterinarian in Germany under certain conditions.
Volltext	The qualification as a specialist veterinarian must be recognised in Germany. This means that you need recognition if you want to use the designation "specialist veterinarian" for your specialisation in the selected federal state.

Modul

Veterinarians can acquire further designations after completing their training and having been granted a licence to practise veterinary medicine.

The aim of the training is to impart in-depth knowledge, experience and skills that enable and entitle the holder to use other titles in addition to the professional title as an indication of special or other additional knowledge or skills in a specific veterinary field (specialist veterinarian) or area (additional title). It also serves to ensure the quality of veterinary practice.

The corresponding specialist veterinarian or additional designations may only be used if the prescribed further training has been successfully completed and the designation has been recognised by the Chamber.

Note: You may only use the designation after recognition for your specialization if there is a corresponding continuing education designation in Germany.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Curriculum vitae with details of completed further training and professional experience
 - Proof of identity (ID card or passport)
 - Proof of German license to practice medicine or professional license and proof of equivalent level of education
 - Certificates of continuing education and certificates of professional experience
 - additional evidence to check equivalence
 - written statement as to whether you have already submitted an application for recognition to another veterinary association.
 - Further documents to be submitted can be found in the linked continuing education regulations of the Lower Saxony Chamber of Veterinarians.

If your documents are not in German, you must submit
