Volltext	If there is a proven need, students receive funding in the form of a grant (50%) and an interest-free state loan (50%) from the beginning of their training, but not for periods prior to application. The grant does not have to be repaid. The interest-free state loan is later repaid in low installments, whereby no one, no matter how high the total educational support was, has to repay more than 10,000 euros in state loans. In the event of need, the amount of support depends on the income and assets of the student and - since the support is basically family-dependent - on the income of the parents and the spouse or registered partner. If allowances specified in the law are exceeded, this will be credited to the respective requirement rate and reduce the amount of funding accordingly. Educational support is provided for subsistence and training (the so-called need). As a monthly requirement, the BAföG provides for lump sums, the amount of which depends, among other things, on the accommodation (with the parents or living abroad). For trainees with children under the age of ten, a childcare supplement may be granted. It is essential to consult the competent authority in the event of a delay in starting or pursuing studies or in changing courses. Training at vocational academies cannot be funded in Lower Saxony. The Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) provides further comprehensive information on BAföG on its website, in particular on the funding requirements, the forms to be completed as part of the application process and the responsible authorities. application directly to the responsible office. With the electronic signature by DE-Mail, the BAföG application is signed electronically. A handwritten signature is then no longer required.

But even those who do not use DE-Mail technology can benefit from the online portal: Once the application has been completed, it can simply be saved in PDF format, printed, signed by hand and scanned by normal e-mail to the responsible office. Of course, the papers can also be sent by post or fax. Here, too, the application is complete and can only be finally decided upon if all necessary evidence is attached.
