Volltext	In many areas of daily life, there is a need to certify documents or copies, as well as copies or printouts of documents. The prerequisite for the official certification of documents and copies is that the original has been issued by a German authority or that the document or copy to be certified is required for submission to an authority, e.g. certificates, certificates of approval and notices. Documents and copies may not be officially certified if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • neither the original has been prepared by an authority nor is the certification intended for submission to an authority (e.g. so-called "Reich Citizen Declarations and Certificates, Financing Documents, Inheritance Matters"), • the exclusive jurisdiction of another authority is given (e.g. civil status documents only the registry office, certified extracts from the real estate cadastre - only from the cadastral office), • it is reasonable to assume that the original content of the document whose photocopy, copy or printout is to be certified has been altered, in particular if this document contains gaps, strikethroughs, insertions, alterations, illegible words, numbers or signs, traces of the removal of words, numbers and characters, or if
