Verfahrensablauf

Information is provided about the trade notification, including the tax office, the Chamber of Crafts, the Chamber of Industry and Commerce, the local court, the employers' liability insurance associations and the trade supervisory office.

Exemptions for industries subject to monitoring

In the event of a notification of the trades referred to in § 38 of the Industrial Code (GewO), the notifier must immediately apply for a certificate of good conduct (document type O, for submission to an authority) and an excerpt from the central trade register (document type O, for submission to an authority) in order to check their reliability. If both documents are already available (not older than three months), they can be attached directly to the notification. If the person making the report fails to comply with this obligation, the competent authority shall obtain the information ex officio. The information will then be sent directly to them and not to the person making the complaint.

In the case of traders from another member state of the European Union or another state party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area, documents issued in the country of origin and proving that the reliability requirements are met are sufficient in accordance with § 13 b GewO. It may be required that the documents be submitted in a certified copy and certified German translation.
