Teaser	Anyone wishing to guard the life or property of other persons on a commercial basis requires the permission of the competent authority.
Volltext	Commercial security is subject to authorisation. Guarding within the meaning of § 34a of the Industrial Code (GewO) is the activity aimed at protecting the life or property of third parties from interference by third parties. The specific activities covered by the term "security" are wide-ranging. These include, but are not limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• conventional bicycle, motor vehicle and building security,</li> <li>• the event service,</li> <li>• passenger screening;</li> <li>• the execution of cash and valuables transports,</li> <li>• personal protection, or</li> <li>• the guarding of industrial and military installations as well as nuclear power plants.</li> </ul> Guarding requires active custody (e.g. supervision or controls). Custody must consist of human activity. A security contractor can be a natural person or a legal entity. In the case of partnerships (e.g. OHG, KG), the trader is any managing partner. In the case of legal entities (e.g. GmbH, AG), the permission of the legal entity is granted.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Copy of the identity card or other official identification document for all natural persons authorized to manage the company</li> </ul>

Sachverhalt

In the case of legal entities (LLC, corporate companies, AG, registered cooperatives), you only need to fill out the application form for the legal entity itself. You must submit all personal documents for all natural persons authorized to manage the company (e.g. identity card). For the legal entity, you also need an excerpt from the Central Trade Register.

Partnerships (GbR, KG, OHG, PartG, GmbH & Co. KG) are not eligible for approval as such. Therefore, every managing partner needs permission. For each of these people, you will need to submit a completed application form and all personal documents.

Rechtsbehelf

If the addressee (usually the applicant) has legal doubts or concerns about the decision on the permit or details thereof, these can be reviewed by way of an action for an obligation or rescission at the competent administrative court, depending on the legal nature.

In Lower Saxony, § 80 of the Lower Saxony Justice Act does not provide for preliminary proceedings. Therefore, no objection is admissible, but rather an administrative court action must be brought directly.
