Teaser	Foreign, underage, unmarried children can beForeign unmarried children who are minors may be granted a residence permit for the purpose of family reunification with a German parent.
Volltext	As a legal representative, you can apply for a residence permit for a foreign unmarried minor child if you have your habitual residence in Germany and would like the child to be able to live with you in Germany. Please note that the child must not be married, divorced or widowed. Minor means that the child must not have reached the age of 18. The establishment of a family partnership between you and the child is a prerequisite for obtaining a residence permit. This must be intended and actually possible. If you, as the parent, have the right of custody, the intention and possibility of establishing a family relationship can usually be assumed. However, it is not necessarily required that you are entitled to exercise personal custody. However, the fatherhood or motherhood to the minor child must be proven. If only the father is German, there must be a valid acknowledgement of paternity. The residence permit is issued for at least one year. is extended as long as the family relationship continues.

After holding the residence permit for three years, it is possible to obtain a settlement permit.

Stepchildren and foster children are not entitled to join the family. However, it is possible to obtain a residence permit on the basis of Section 32 of the Residence Act (subsequent immigration of children) or Section 36 (2) of the Residence Act (subsequent immigration as other family members).

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Recognized and valid identity document (for example passport or passport substitute) of the child and the German parent
- Visa of the child, if this was required for entry
- Current biometric photo of the child in passport format (45 x 35 mm)
- Birth certificate of the child
- Proof of paternity acknowledgment, if the parents are not married and the child is to join the German father.
- If one custodial parent remains abroad: Proof of custody Declaration of consent of the parent living abroad.

The documents and information must generally be submitted in German. In individual cases, the Aliens' Registration Office may require less or further proof.

Voraussetzungen

- One parent with parental authority has German citizenship.
- The child has a valid identity document.
- The child has the required visa if this was necessary for entry.
- The child is a minor at the time of application, neither married nor divorced or widowed.
- The German parent has his or her habitual residence in Germany.
- The fatherhood or motherhood to the child is proven.
- The German parent is actually and legally willing and able to establish a family relationship with the child who is moving in. This is assumed if the right of personal custody for the child exists. However, the right of personal custody is not a prerequisite for the

Kosten	Cost amount: 50 euros Remark: Additional fees may apply for the issuance of the residence permit in the form of the electronic residence permit, which can also be used as an electronic proof of identity.
Verfahrensablauf	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If required for entry into Germany, a national visa must be applied for for the child at a German mission abroad prior to entry. • After entry, the residence permit for the child must be applied for at the aliens' registration office before the period of visa-free stay or the validity of the visa ends. • Find out whether the competent foreigners authority allows the application to be submitted online or provides a special application form. • If the application can only be submitted in person, make an appointment at the aliens' registration office. In the case of online application, the Aliens' Registration Office will contact you after receiving the application to arrange an appointment. • During the appointment, your identity and the identity of the child as well as the available documents will be checked (please bring all documents, if possible in original, to the appointment). • If your application is granted, the child's fingerprints will be taken for the production of the electronic residence permit (eAT card for short). Fingerprints will not be taken from children under the age of six. • The Aliens Department orders the production of the eAT card from Bundesdruckerei. After completion, you will receive information and can pick up the eAT card at the responsible office. The eAT card must always be collected in person. • If your application is rejected, you will receive a rejection notice.
