Teaser	Foreign, minor and unmarried children with a residence permit for family reunification with a German parent can receive an extension of the residence permit as long as the family relationship continues.
Volltext	As the legal representative, you can apply for an extension of the residence permit for a foreign minor unmarried child, so that the child can continue to live with you in Germany. Please note that your child must not be married, divorced or widowed. Minor means that he or she has not yet reached the age of 18. The establishment of a family partnership between you and the child is a prerequisite for obtaining a residence permit. This must be intended and actually possible. If you, as the parent, have the right of custody, the intention and possibility of establishing family cohabitation can usually be assumed. However, it is not necessarily required that you are entitled to exercise personal custody. However, the fatherhood or motherhood to the minor child must be proven.

If only the father is German, there must be an acknowledgment of paternity that is to be regarded as valid.

If the child has already been in possession of a residence permit for three years, an application for a settlement permit may be considered.

If the child has meanwhile reached the age of 18, the child can receive an independent right of residence, independent of the family reunion.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- Recognized and valid identity document (for example passport or passport substitute) of the child and the German parent
- Current biometric photo of the child in passport format (45 x 35 mm)
- Proof of paternity acknowledgment, if parents are not married and reunification with the German father is to take place.
- If one custodial parent remains abroad: Proof of custody, Declaration of consent of the parent living abroad.
- The documents and information must generally be submitted in German. In individual cases, the Aliens' Registration Office may require less or further proof.

Voraussetzungen

- One parent with parental authority has German citizenship.
- The child has a valid identity document.
- The child is a minor at the time of application, neither married nor divorced or widowed.
- The German parent has his or her habitual residence in Germany.
- The German parent is still actually and legally willing and able to maintain a family relationship with the child. This is assumed if the right of personal custody for the child continues to exist. However, the right of custody is not a prerequisite for the extension of the residence permit.
- There is no reason for expulsion against the child.
