Teaser	The search and excavation for archaeological monuments as well as the salvage of archaeological monuments from bodies of water are subject to approval.
Volltext	The search and excavation for archaeological monuments as well as the salvage of archaeological monuments from bodies of water require the approval of the competent authority. Projects in excavation protection areas that may endanger hidden monuments require the approval of the competent authority. Previous agricultural use does not require a permit, but a change of use requires a permit. The permit may be granted subject to conditions, e.g.: • Management of the measure by an expert with a university degree in an archaeological subject • Submission of a detailed excavation/investigation concept • Ensuring the treatment, safeguarding and documentation of the archaeological finds in accordance with the guidelines • Ensuring the documentation of diagnostic information in accordance with the guidelines
Erforderliche Unterlagen	• Application • the documents required for the assessment, e.g. site plan, cadastral map or base map with entries • Submission of an excavation/research concept, including a scientific/monument preservation question and an indication of the equipment and aids used
