Teaser	Foreigners who do not or do not yet meet the requirements for naturalization can be naturalized at their discretion, provided certain conditions are met.
Volltext	Naturalization is the granting of German citizenship to a foreigner. It must be applied for and is carried out by issuing a special naturalization certificate. A foreigner whose identity and citizenship have been clarified, who is legally resident in Germany at the time of naturalization but does not meet the requirements for entitlement to naturalization, can be naturalized on a discretionary basis upon application. The foreigner must be able to support themselves and their dependent family members from their own resources and must not have a criminal record. If they meet these requirements, the citizenship authority will check whether there is a public (state) interest in naturalization. In principle, the applicant must have been a legal resident in Germany for five years. For German married couples, the period of residence can be
