Sachverhalt

A further prerequisite for recognition is that there is a need for the recognition of a search team.

The need for search teams is determined by the governments on a rotational basis for their area of responsibility according to districts/county-free cities. In order to ensure the broadest possible local coverage in Bavaria and the most timely search, the applicant's main place of residence plays a decisive role in meeting the demand.

If the applications exceed the demand, applicants who have voluntarily undertaken to use their dog exclusively for tracking will be given priority over other applicants. Furthermore, it is possible to balance the number of applications between rural districts/county-free cities and administrative districts if there is an unmet need there.

Kosten

Recognition is subject to a fee.

Depending on the effort involved, the fees are usually between EUR 12.50 and EUR 60.00 for initial recognition and between EUR 7.50 and EUR 30.00 for renewed recognition.

Verfahrensablauf

Interested search guides submit their applications to the government responsible for them within the application deadline.

The application form available under "Forms" must be submitted in text form together with supporting documents.

The government examines the documents and determines the need for search teams for each district/city in its administrative district. Within the scope of this requirement, recognition is granted for a period of up to three years and is always revocable. If the requirements are met, you will receive a notice of recognition.
