Teaser	Motor sport events - both on the road and in other areas - require a permit.
Volltext	A motor sport event that is not to take place exclusively on public traffic areas requires a permit under safety law from the district authorities, independent cities or large district towns. The permit must be refused if it appears necessary to prevent danger to life, health or property or to protect against significant disadvantages or significant nuisances for the general public or neighborhood or against significant impairment of nature or the landscape. The same applies if other public law regulations conflict with this. To protect these legal interests, the district offices, independent cities or large district towns can issue orders for individual cases. For motor sport events that are to take place exclusively or partially on public traffic areas, only or additionally a traffic permit is required from the responsible road traffic authority.
