Volltext	Persons with special living conditions associated with social difficulties are entitled to help to overcome these difficulties within the framework of social assistance if they are unable to do so on their own. This includes, for example, people without adequate accommodation (homeless people), homeless people, ex-offenders and young people with behavioral disorders who cannot be granted educational assistance under Social Code VIII or integration assistance. The assistance includes all necessary measures to avert, eliminate or alleviate the difficulties or to prevent them from worsening (e.g. counseling and personal support; obtaining and maintaining a home and a job; securing schooling and vocational training). Cash and non-cash benefits are also eligible. Personal assistance is granted regardless of income and assets. In the case of cash benefits and benefits in kind, the income limit of Section 85 of the Social Security Code XII applies (basic amount of twice the standard needs level 1 (see "Social assistance; applying for assistance with living expenses" + 70% of standard needs level 1 for other family members + reasonable accommodation expenses). The income and assets of the person seeking assistance and the dependants are only to be taken into account if this does not jeopardize the success of the assistance.
