Teaser	School authorities can apply for the establishment and funding of tied all-day school programs.
Volltext	Purpose In order to enable parents and guardians to reconcile family and career as well as appropriate forms of family division of labor, all-day schools offer families not only care, but also educational support. However, Bavaria is not only sending out a socio-political signal with all-day schools, but is also focusing on educational goals. Compulsory all-day schools are an educational offer with a distinct quality of content. More time is available for extended educational and support opportunities. Compulsory all-day schools in Bavaria are committed to the triad of education, upbringing and care. Object The Free State of Bavaria provides weekly teacher hours and/or funding to cover the additional staffing costs for tied all-day school programs at state and municipal schools as well as independent schools. Recipient of funding The funding is paid to the school expenditure provider, school authority or cooperation partner. Type and amount

Modul	Sachverhalt
	Depending on the type of school, the grant per bound all-day class and school year is currently between 28,610.00 and 46,224.00 euros at municipal schools and independent schools. In addition to the teacher hours per week, state schools receive a budget of between EUR 9,505.00 and EUR 28,606.00 per class and school year, which includes a municipal co-financing lump sum of currently EUR 7,910.00.
