Volltext	Purpose In Bavaria, over 100 state-funded, easily accessible marriage and family counseling centers offer a highly qualified range of counseling services. In addition to marriage, partnership, family and life counseling, preparation for partnership and marriage, sexual counseling and education on family planning in the sense of responsible parenthood, the range of counseling offered by marriage and family counseling centers also includes counseling for single parents, counseling in cases of violence in the family and basic counseling on social assistance for the family. The counseling centers provide this counseling in individual and group sessions across all denominations. Marriage and family counseling must be offered to all citizens in Bavaria within a reasonable distance. This requires nationwide coverage. In the future, there should be at least one counseling center in every district and in every independent city in which a counseling service exists at the time the framework agreement on state funding for marriage and family counseling centers is concluded. Object Personnel expenses for specialists working in the marriage and family counseling center are eligible for funding. Recipients of funding
