Sachverhalt

- Residence permit for researchersYou can also apply for a residence permit for the purpose of research.
- Residence permit for self-employed workA residence permit is required for self-employed commercial or freelance work.

There are also some special regulations. The most important are

- Special regulation for nursing assistantsThe German labor market is also open to nursing assistants from third countries. This means that people who have completed nursing training that is not considered qualified vocational training or who have been recognized as such (nursing assistants) can work in nursing activities.
- Study-related internship EUStudents from foreign universities or foreign nationals who have obtained a university degree in the last two years can obtain a residence permit for a study-related internship under certain conditions.
- Special regulation for professional driversDrivers of trucks or buses who have the required driving license and the (accelerated) EU or EEA basic qualification can obtain a residence permit for their work.
- Western Balkans regulationNationals of Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo, Montenegro, North Macedonia and Serbia have the opportunity to work in Germany within the framework of a quota, regardless of qualifications. Further information on this can be found in the separate service description under "Related topics".
- Au pairAu pair employment involves the temporary placement of foreign nationals between the ages of 18 and 27 in a German host family. For the foreign national, the focus is on acquiring cultural knowledge and improving their German language skills. In return for imparting this knowledge, the au pair supports the

Before the residence permit is extended, it must be determined whether the foreigner has fulfilled any obligation to properly attend an integration course. It is also important that the foreigner enters the country with the visa previously applied for at the competent German diplomatic mission abroad. In certain cases and for certain nationals, simplifications apply. Further information can be found under "Further links". |
