Teaser	Drivers in commercial road haulage or passenger transport must provide proof of a special qualification in addition to their driving license.
Volltext	If you wish to transport goods or passengers by road for professional reasons, you must provide proof of a so-called basic qualification for professional drivers in addition to your driving license. This applies to drivers of vehicles with a gross vehicle weight of more than 3.5 tons in road haulage and works transport or of vehicles with more than eight passenger seats in passenger transport, provided that a C or D class driving license is required to drive the vehicle/vehicle combination. A distinction is made between the basic qualification and the accelerated basic qualification. You acquire the accelerated basic qualification by attending a training course at a recognized training centre and successfully passing a theoretical examination at the Chamber of Industry and Commerce. Participation in the course is mandatory. For the theoretical examination, there are again simplifications for holders of certificates of professional competence in accordance with the professional access regulations. If you obtained your driver's license before 10.9.2008 (bus) or 10.9.2009 (truck), you do not have to provide proof of basic qualification ("acquis").

The type of test differs depending on the requirements:
