Sachverhalt

- the child or young person is removed from the foster home permanently or in accordance with Section 42 Para. 1 SGB VIII or by court order in the legitimate exercise of the right to determine residence, or
- the child or young person has not lived in the foster home for more than six months without interruption.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- During the counselling interview at your youth welfare office, you will find out which specific documents you need - among others:
 - extended certificate of good conduct for all adults living in the caregiver's household
 - Proof of income
 - Certificate of registration
 - Brief curriculum vitae
 - Birth certificate, marriage certificate if applicable

Voraussetzungen

The youth welfare office may only issue a care permit if the child's welfare is guaranteed in the care facility.

In particular, the care license must be denied if

- a foster carer does not have sufficient educational skills to meet the child's or young person's level of development and educational needs,
- the admission of the foster child is not compatible with the welfare of all children and adolescents living in the foster carer's family or a foster carer is overburdened with the care of a further child or adolescent; this can generally be assumed if there are already three foster children in the foster home,
- a foster carer does not guarantee that the basic direction of the upbringing determined by the legal guardians, including religious or ideological upbringing, will be observed,
- there are indications that a foster carer or a person living in their household could endanger the moral welfare of the child or young person,
- the financial circumstances of a foster carer and their household management are clearly not in order,
- a foster carer or the persons living in their household suffer from an illness that endangers the welfare of the child or young person to a more than

Verfahrensablauf	Before you apply for a childcare permit, you should seek advice from the youth welfare office. They will tell you what specific requirements you need to fulfill and what proof you need to provide. The care permit can be applied for in writing or in writing at the local youth welfare office. In one-to-one meetings with the applicant/applicant, the child or young person, the youth welfare office will check whether the child's welfare is guaranteed in the foster home. The conditions on site are also checked during home visits. If the requirements for granting a care permit are met, the applicants/applicants will receive a corresponding notification.
Bearbeitungsdauer
Frist	Permission must be applied for before the child or young person is admitted.
weiterführende Informationen
Hinweise	If a child lives in a foster family, the foster family must inform the responsible youth welfare office of any important changes in the foster family (e.g. change of residence, illnesses that could endanger the child's well-being) and, if necessary, provide further information about the foster home and the child or young person.
