Teaser	In addition to farmers, private individuals with so-called hobby livestock farming must also register their animals or report their business.
Volltext	Anyone wishing to keep terrestrial animals (birds, land mammals, bees and bumblebees) must notify the competent authority before commencing the activity, stating their name, address, location of the establishment and description of its facilities, categories, species and the number of terrestrial animals kept and the capacity of the establishment, type of establishment and other aspects relating to the establishment that are relevant for determining the risk it poses. The only exceptions to this are households in which pets are kept. Changes and the cessation of animal husbandry must also be reported.
Erforderliche Unterlagen
Voraussetzungen	You keep one of the animal species listed above. You must have a holding number (registration number in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/429). This must be applied for at the responsible Office for Food, Agriculture and Forestry. If you already have a holding number, this may need to be extended.
Kosten	none
