If you need proof of your birth or the birth of your child, you can apply for a birth certificate.

Volltext

After birth, every child in Germany must be registered in the birth register. After this registration, you can also apply for a birth certificate. This proves the birth of a person and contains information about the place and time of birth as well as the first and last name. It usually also contains information about the person's gender and parents. You will need a birth certificate in various contexts throughout your life. For use abroad, it can also be issued on a multilingual form. You can use this in many countries without translation. You can have an (international) birth certificate issued at the registry office that registered your birth. In federal states where there is a central registry network, you can also obtain the birth certificate from any other registry office in the registry network.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

When applying, you must submit: Your identity card or passport (if applying in writing: copy), when applying for or collecting by an authorised person: written authorization of the authorized person, Your identity card (original or copy) or Passport (original or copy) and the identity card or passport of the authorized person for other people: where applicable, proof of their legal interest

Voraussetzungen

You can get a birth certificate if you: are at least 16 years old and are the person to whom the birth certificate refers or whose Spouse or life partner (within the meaning of the Registered Life Partnership Act) or their Ancestor or descendant or their Siblings civilly registered event, please write to the General Register of Hamburg's Civil Registry Offices. There you can find out which civil registry office recorded the civil status event. For birth certificates from births that occurred more than 110 years ago, please contact the Hamburg State Archives (see links). For civil status events (birth, marriage, death) that were recorded in a Hamburg registry office from 2009, additional certificates can be issued in all Hamburg registry offices. These certificates are marked with the addition "Certificate in accordance with Section 67 Paragraph 3 of the Civil Status Act". Please note that these certificates are not recognized abroad. For such purposes, please use certificates that were issued by the registry office that was originally responsible. Civil status certificates contain personal data, so their issuance is subject to data protection restrictions.

Rechtsbehelf

If the issuance is refused, you can submit an application for a court order to the Hamburg District Court, Sievekingplatz 1.
