Teaser	Vaccination damage is the health and economic consequence of damage to health caused by the protective vaccination that goes beyond the usual extent of a vaccination reaction.
Volltext	If you or your child have suffered vaccine damage as a result of a vaccination that is required by law or recommended by an authority, you are entitled to benefits under Book Fourteen of the Social Code (SGB XIV) due to the health and economic consequences of the vaccine damage. Vaccine damage is the health and economic consequence of damage to health caused by the vaccination that goes beyond the usual extent of a vaccination reaction. The benefits catalogue of the Social Code Book XIV applies. The prerequisite for entitlement to social compensation benefits is the existence of a persistent health disorder, which can generally only be assumed after six months have passed. The relevant applications can be submitted to the Social Compensation Department.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	Care is only granted upon request. The application must be submitted by the person concerned or by his or her legal representative or guardian. The application form is available on the homepage, the application can also be made informally. Evidence of the administration of the vaccination or specific prophylaxis, e.g. B. Vaccination card, treatment documents.
Voraussetzungen	presence of vaccine damage
Kosten	Gebühr: Es fallen keine Kosten an
Verfahrensablauf	Examination of the application and the documents submitted, if necessary requesting further documents, if the requirements are met (recommended vaccination, damage to health that goes beyond the extent of a vaccination reaction), medical assessment, notification

Modul	Sachverhalt
Bearbeitungsdauer	No information available
Frist	In principle, there are no deadlines to be observed. In order to receive care once the injury has occurred, the application must be made within one year of vaccination.
