Teaser	The health insurance companies cover travel costs that are medically necessary in connection with a health insurance service
Volltext	The health insurance companies cover the costs for trips to inpatient hospital treatment, rescue trips and patient transport. There is also an entitlement to trips to outpatient treatment and pre- and post-hospital treatment, including outpatient surgery, if this avoids or shortens inpatient treatment or if this cannot be carried out.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Medical prescription for patient transportation</li> <li>• Trips in connection with outpatient treatment sometimes require the approval of the health insurance company</li> </ul>
Voraussetzungen	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• trips to the hospital for inpatient treatment,</li> <li>• Journeys to a pre- or post-hospital treatment in the hospital,</li> <li>• Trips to an outpatient operation that replaces inpatient treatment,</li> <li>• rescue trips.</li> <li>• Medical transport of people in need of care and severely disabled, namely people with a recognized severe disability (code "aG", "BI" or "H") or people in need of care with care level 3 in the case of permanent mobility impairments and with care level 4 or 5.</li> <li>• Approval from the health insurance company is not required if a patient trip is prescribed, for example with a taxi or rental car. • However, a permit is required if the patient has to be transported in an ambulance due to the required medical care or professional positioning of the patient.</li> <li>• If there is a disease that requires high-frequency</li> </ul> treatment over a longer period of time and this treatment or the course of the disease leading to this treatment affects the patient in such a way that transport is essential to avoid damage to life and limb. This applies, for example, to trips to dialysis or to radiation or chemotherapy for cancer patients.

- Sick people whose treatment does not correspond to the case studies mentioned can apply for approval and examination of their individual case by the health insurance company.

Medical transport can be prescribed if it is medically necessary in connection with a service provided by the statutory health insurance company. This includes:

Kosten

- Insured persons have to pay 10 percent of the fare themselves as a statutory additional payment, at least 5 euros and a maximum of 10 euros per trip, but never more than the actual costs incurred.
- These additional payments must also be made for children and young people. In the case of journeys in connection with inpatient treatment, insured persons pay a co-payment for the first and last journey.
- This also applies to journeys in connection with outpatient operations replacing a ward. If you have little or no income, you can apply to be exempted from the co-payment. Please contact your health insurance company for this

Verfahrensablauf

Please inquire with your health insurance company.

Bearbeitungsdauer

If approval is required, the health insurance company must decide within a period of 3 weeks from receipt of the application.

no
