Teaser	If you live legally in Hamburg and do not have German citizenship, you usually need an electronic residence permit (eAT) as proof of your residence status.
Volltext	As a person with foreign nationality, you usually need a residence permit in order to be able to stay in Germany legally. This residence permit is issued as an electronic residence permit (eAT) in credit card format. The electronic residence permit contains your personal details and information about your residence status. This data is also stored on a chip (electronic storage medium). With the electronic residence permit, you can use the online ID function on the Internet. The period of validity of your electronic residence permit depends on how long your residence status is valid and how long your national passport is valid. In the case of permanent residence permits, the electronic residence permit is valid for a maximum of ten years, after which you need a new card. If you have lost your electronic residence permit or if it has been stolen, you will need to reapply as the passport number is noted on it. You should have the online identification function of your electronic residence permit blocked in the event of loss or theft. You can do this at the responsible customer center for foreigners matters or by calling the blocking hotline 116 116 around the clock.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Your valid national passport or passport substitute or identity card substitute. • If available, your current residence permit or proof of the current right of residence. • Please use your EC card instead of cash to pay the fees. • If you receive benefits from the job center or basic security, please bring your benefit notification with you.

application.

- The district office checks the granting requirements.
- You pay the fees.
- If the decision is positive, your biometric data will be recorded.
- The authorities will order the electronic residence permit for you from Bundesdruckerei GmbH.
- You come to a pick-up time agreed at the first appointment and receive your electronic residence permit.
- Collection is also possible by a third party upon presentation of a power of attorney.

If you want to complete the process online:

- You use the Hamburg residence permit online service (see links). There you enter your personal data and upload the required documents.
- After the competent authority has checked your documents, they will contact you to arrange an appointment. In the future you will be able to book an appointment.
- The district office will check before your first appointment whether you meet all the requirements.
- The remaining procedural steps correspond to those of the written procedure.

If you have found or received your residence permit again, you cannot have the blocked residence permit unblocked by calling the blocking hotline. You have to go to the immigration office in person. However, the eAT card can only be unblocked if a new eAT card has not yet been ordered from Bundesdruckerei.

Bearbeitungsdauer

The processing time is approximately 4 to 8 weeks. Depending on the order volume at Bundesdruckerei GmbH, it may take a long time after the application has been made before the electronic residence permit is finally issued.

Frist

The application deadline is 4 months before the validity expires.
