payment deadline for the warning is one week after receipt. If payment is not made on time, a fine notice will be issued. If the proceedings are not discontinued after a statement or objections are submitted, a fine notice will also be issued.

For administrative offences worth 60 euros or more, the proceedings are initiated in writing by hearing the person concerned (if the police were not heard on site) and the punishment is imposed by issuing a fine. It is advisable to read the information on the back carefully. A fine is not a warning, but a decision that can be appealed against and an appeal can be lodged within two weeks of being served. The appeal period must be observed.

Appeals must be lodged via fax, De-Mail or letter post.

In Hamburg, the Office for Migration, Department for Traffic Fines, of the Ministry of the Interior and Sport is the responsible department.
