| Teaser                        | If you want to sell forest reproductive material, you must apply for approval for your reproductive material in advance.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Volltext                      | You may only bring forest reproductive material onto the market if the source material has the appropriate approval. For approval, the trees or forest areas from which the starting material comes are checked using a comprehensive catalog of criteria and, if the required standards are achieved, are approved for the production of reproductive material.     |
