Volltext	For example, if you want to hold an event at your airport where aircraft are displayed in flight or compete against each other, then you need a permit. You must apply for this at the responsible authority. Aviation events are particularly dangerous due to the increased traffic density and large number of visitors. They must therefore be meticulously planned, meticulously carried out and strictly controlled. The responsible aviation authority checks whether the program and the participants offer a guarantee for the safe execution of the event and regulates the necessary safety and noise protection precautions in the event of the event being approved. During the event, the aviation authority will monitor compliance with these requirements.

Voraussetzungen

As the organizer, you must take out organizer liability insurance to cover any third-party damage. The aviation event must not endanger public security or order.

Kosten

Gebühr: Es fallen keine Kosten an

Verfahrensablauf

If you are planning an event with aircraft: Submit all required documents with your application. The competent authority will carry out an examination of your application. It will be checked whether the program and the participants ensure that the event can be carried out safely. After examining the documents, the responsible authority decides whether you will receive permission to hold the aviation event. You will receive a notification of approval or rejection (by post or, if necessary, via the service portal of the responsible authority). In the event of an event being

Hinweise	You do not need a permit for aviation events in which only model aircraft and non-motorized air sports equipment take part within the framework of an ascent permit that has already been issued, which are not subject to the obligation to be licensed for traffic and with which no passengers are transported.
Rechtsbehelf	contradiction
Kurztext	Aviation events are associated with special risks. They have to be planned and carried out precisely and controlled precisely. They place special demands on the reliability of the organizer and the participating pilots. No aviation event may take place without permission. You can apply for this permission. It will be checked whether the program and the participants offer a guarantee for the safe implementation of the event. If an event is approved, the necessary safety and noise protection measures will be taken. Compliance with these requirements will be monitored during the event.
