	obliged to use the common European mail order logo on its website. It shows consumers that a mail order business is entitled to sell human medicines by mail order over the Internet under its respective national law. At first glance, consumers can see the member state in which the mail order business is established. The logo must be clearly visible on the website. Clicking on it takes you to the mail order register. You must submit a notification of trading in these medicinal products in accordance with the Medicines Act in addition to registering your business.
