Teaser	Would you like to work as a medical laboratory assistant in Germany? Then you need a government permit. You can have your foreign professional qualifications recognized.
Volltext	In order to work as a medical laboratory assistant in Germany, you need a professional permit. For this, the equivalence of your foreign training with the German training is checked. If equivalence is established, you can get a professional permit if the requirements are met. If equivalence is not established, you must first complete an adaptation measure (knowledge test/adaptation course) before you can receive a professional permit. In order to make the profession of medical-technical assistant more attractive, the law to reform technical assistant professions in medicine and to amend other laws (MTA Reform Act) will improve the conditions of medical-technical professions from January 1, 2023. An important innovation is the change in job titles. The title of medical-technical laboratory assistant or medical-technical laboratory assistant will become the title of medical technologist for laboratory analysis or medical technologist for laboratory analysis. The old and the new MTA Act will apply in parallel until December 31, 2026. In Hamburg, however, all related procedures are already being decided according to the new legal situation.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	Application (available online) Documents according to the information sheet (available online) Language certificate B2/ specialist language test (see information sheet) medical certificate (available online) Official certificate of good conduct according to Section 30 Paragraph 5 of the Federal Central Register Act (BZRG)
Voraussetzungen	You have successfully completed training as a medical laboratory assistant outside the European Union (EU), the European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland and are entitled to work there independently as a medical laboratory assistant. You want to work in Germany as a medical laboratory assistant. Personal suitability: You

	are reliable for work as a medical laboratory assistant and have no criminal record. Medical suitability: You are mentally and physically fit to work as a medical laboratory assistant. You have German language skills at the required language level. This is usually language level B2 according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).
Kosten	at least EUR 350 depending on the effort up to EUR 550
Verfahrensablauf	application You compile your documents based on the information sheet that you can find on our website or that we sent you. You submit the documents to us together with the application in the required form. Verification of equivalence The responsible body will then check whether you meet all the requirements. An important requirement is the equivalence of your professional qualification. The responsible body will compare your professional qualification from abroad with the German professional qualification as a medical-technical laboratory assistant. The professional qualification is equivalent if there are no significant differences between your foreign professional qualification and the German professional qualification. Possible results of the test If equivalence exists, submit proof of your health, language and personal suitability (information sheet). If there is no equivalence, you will complete an adaptation measure in the form of a knowledge test or an adaptation course. You will receive further information about this from us.

Kurztext

Medical-technical laboratory assistant with training from a third country, recognition of foreign professional qualifications. In Germany, you need a state permit to work as a medical-technical laboratory assistant. With the permit, you can officially call yourself a medical-technical laboratory assistant and work in the profession. You can also obtain a state permit in Germany with a professional qualification from a country outside the European Union (EU), the European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland. On January 1, 2023, the training for the professions in medical technology was reformed in Germany. The new law on professions in medical technology applies. The profession based on this is called Medical Technologist for Laboratory Analysis or Medical Technologist for Laboratory Analysis. Applications for this profession have been decided in Hamburg since January 1st, 2023 according to the new law; the statutory transitional period is not being used.
