| Hinweise                     | The storage of fingerprints has been mandatory for newly issued identity cards throughout Europe since August 2, 2021. If an index finger is missing, the fingerprint is of insufficient quality or the fingertip is injured, the flat print of either the thumb, the middle finger or the ring finger is saved as a substitute. Only authorities that are legally authorized to determine identity may read the biometric data in the chip. These are set out in Section 17 of the Personal Identity Card Act (PAuswG).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
