Hinweise	The declaring administrative act merely confirms the legal requirements of an architectural monument. The legal challenge must therefore be directed against the status of a monument, not against the violation of regulatory regulations.
Rechtsbehelf	You can file a lawsuit against the decision in the case of movable monuments and architectural monuments that were included in the list of cultural monuments after 2011 and thus initiate legal redress proceedings. No declaratory administrative act can be applied for for architectural monuments that were included in the list of cultural monuments before 2011, for archaeological monuments and immovable monuments of geological history. In this case, an action for declaratory judgment must be filed directly with the administrative court.
