Sachverhalt

The one-year preliminary stage is followed by a two-year study stage. This prepares students for a university degree or qualified vocational training.

Depending on the subject profile - i.e. education/psychology, economics or technology - the core subjects taught are German, mathematics and English. In addition, the schools offer French, Spanish, fine arts, music, theater, geography, history, politics/society/economics (PGW), religion, philosophy, physics, chemistry, biology, sports and the seminar subject.

In addition, the vocational high schools offer the following:

- \- Practical and international projects
- \- Project work in environmental technology
- \- Insights into the professional world (work shadowing) through company visits
- \- Cooperation with universities
- \- Bilingual teaching
- \- Support from learning coaches and guidance teachers and much more

Registration: You register directly with the schools. The registration deadline is March 31st.
