for this purpose. The core elements of the law are the separation between the determination of death in §§ 3 and 5 and the introduction of a qualified post-mortem examination in § 8. In future, every person who dies in the State of Bremen will be subjected to a post-mortem examination by a specially qualified post-mortem doctor after the determination of death.

Accordingly, the notarisation of a death can only take place after a qualified post-mortem examination has been carried out.
