Teaser	Do you want to use a public road surface above or below ground permanently? Then you need a corresponding permit or authorization. The permission entitles - in contrast to a special use - to a claim on urban land, which does not impair the so-called common use of this land. This applies not only to permanent, but also to temporary uses, e.g. within the framework of a building project. Even if a building permit or other public-law approval has already been granted, this alone does not entitle the use of such uses within the framework of the planned construction measure.
Volltext	With a permit, the licensee receives permission from the City of Bremerhaven as the owner of the property to install, lay and operate lines and/or installations (overvoltages, cables, pipelines, inspection shafts, building anchors, cellar light shafts etc.) on or in a property. The installation of bollards in the side room, maintenance and use of green spaces in the street side room also fall within this regulation area. In order to be allowed to use urban areas for this purpose, a licensing agreement must be concluded. However, the Office for Road and Bridge Construction is only responsible for the approval of above-ground or underground use of public road space by means of pipes and cables. Please note that the Road Traffic Authority (Amt 91/31) is responsible if public roads, paths and squares or parts thereof are to be used for purposes other than traffic and the public use of this area is impaired as a result. For this purpose, a permit under public law is required (e.g. special use permit for driving over sidewalk and bicycle path areas with construction and delivery vehicles, storage of construction material and equipment, crane or scaffolding erection, erection of construction containers).

Erforderliche Unterlagen	No documents required.
Voraussetzungen	No special requirements.
Kosten	All permits are subject to a fee and are governed by the fee regulations for special use in accordance with the Bremische Landesstraßengesetz (see attachment). Please ask the responsible person in charge for these in individual cases.
Verfahrensablauf	An informal application must be submitted to the Office for Road and Bridge Construction in good time. The planned use is to be presented by you in detail (site plan, section, explanation). The necessary permission will be regulated within the framework of a private law permission contract (according to civil law), as long as the use does not interfere with public transport. We would like to point out that with regard to the future use of the affected urban area and for the examination of already existing supply and disposal facilities, various supply providers and municipal departments must be consulted. Therefore, a waiting period of at least four weeks before the intended use of the property must be expected for the processing of the application. No urban areas may be claimed before the conclusion of the licensing agreement.
