Teaser	You have had a child and would like to determine the child's name and order birth certificates, as well as apply for parental allowance and child benefit? Here you can find out how to do everything at the same time, bundled and easily with one application.
Volltext	With the combined family benefit, various benefits can be applied for from different authorities via a single online service - ELFE (Simply Benefits for Parents). You can apply for the benefits simultaneously, bundled and easily. You only need to enter your data once and do not need to submit any additional documents to the different authorities. With the ELFE online service, you can apply for all benefits at the same time or freely choose which of the 3 benefits you want to apply for. The following benefits are available: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Determine the name of the newborn child and order birth certificates from the registry office. 2. Apply for child benefit at the family benefits office. 3. Apply for parental allowance at the Elterngeldstelle: With your consent, the relevant offices will exchange birth data electronically among themselves. At the same time, you can agree to have your salary data automatically retrieved by your employer and transmitted to the responsible parental allowance office by means of the pension insurance data office. This way, you do not have to send paper statements to the parental allowance office. You do not have to use the online service. You can still submit all applications by mail or in person to the competent authority. A combination of postal,
